PANY .- The fall season was opened at the ferred to the Committee on Streets. Theatre last evening by the Star Alliance Among the passengers yesterday on the Company in the new comic military opera eastward-bound Chesapeake and Ohio ex- (if it may be termed opera) entitled "The eastward-bound Chesapeake and Ohio ex- (if it may be termed opera) entitled "The press train was General G. T. Beauregard. Prince Napoleon; or, The Fatal Field in of the voters of this city to night at 8 o'clock press train was General G. T. Beauregard. Prince Napoleon; or, The Fatal Field in to appoint delegates to the Senatorial and Zululand." There was a fine audience in attendance, but the performance itself possessed no merit whatever. This was the cast: Louis Eugene Napoleon, Prince Imperial of France, Alice Vane; Bishop Bonsuavity, resident at Natal, Horace W. Cone, Jr. ; Commander-in-Chief English forces in tardy, a fushionable soldier, Sumner Silscia: Sergeant Scarface of the Queen's Own, Carlos Weddell; Officers, Dragoons, Camp The Kanawha and Olympic Boat Clubs Followers; Lady May, with operatic songs, pride of Natal, Mamie Johnston; The Crow, from the colored Carolinas, Fay Templeton; The General's General, an antique Amazon, girl, Sadie Johnson; Ladies, Peasants, Vivandieres; Zulus-Cetewayo, the Zulu King, H. Buckley; The Induna, a Zulu Zulus. Much of the music of the "Romanza was from "Pinafore," and, with the goodlooking young ladies on the stage, redeemed the performance considerably. There are two or three good voices in the company, and their singing, as well as the performance upon the cornet and zitherphone, were creditable, and were highly applauded. Miss Inez Sexton sang two or three ballads during the evening, and was encored.

For this afternoon at the matinee and the night performance we are promised an enjoyable entertainment in "Pinafore." Seats may be secured at Johnston's.
